GUITARIST RESONATES WITH “ROTATION OF EARTH”

(Seattle) Seattle-area guitarist Damon Buxton released his third instrumental guitar recording “Rotation Of Earth.” Featuring resonant, heartfelt explorations of open tunings, the fourteen-song effort builds on his 2007 “Forgiving Dreams” produced by Windham Hill Records founder Will Ackerman.

Applying what he learned from Ackerman, Buxton says “Will taught me to pay attention to the emotion in my music, to feel it, and make it present in the performance.”

Composed in the early hours throughout the four seasons of 2009, the pieces are recorded intimately to make the listener feel as though they’re sitting in the room with the guitar.

Rotation Of Earth is available at DamonBuxton.com and in the iTunes, Amadeo Music, and Amazon Music stores.
